

THE QUEER HANDICAP

11TH ESSAY — SEXOLOGY FOR THE WISE

Carefully marshaled remedies could stem contemporary decay by restraining or redirecting queer handicaps towards beneficial social integration, which is what First Nations did. As it stands, grammatically incorrect identities on offer will increase irredeemable losses by default because they reverse biological diktats of divine ordering via Tesla's 3-6-9 aether (op. cit.). Without a generic approach, our majority is inevitably bound to maladjustments to vulgar executive who manage prurience as a side hustle. Indeed, elitists have removed Parcival from all decks [11]. Sadly, except for the Cosmic Christos within [12], Marvel's heroes will never find let alone deliver holy grails to port.

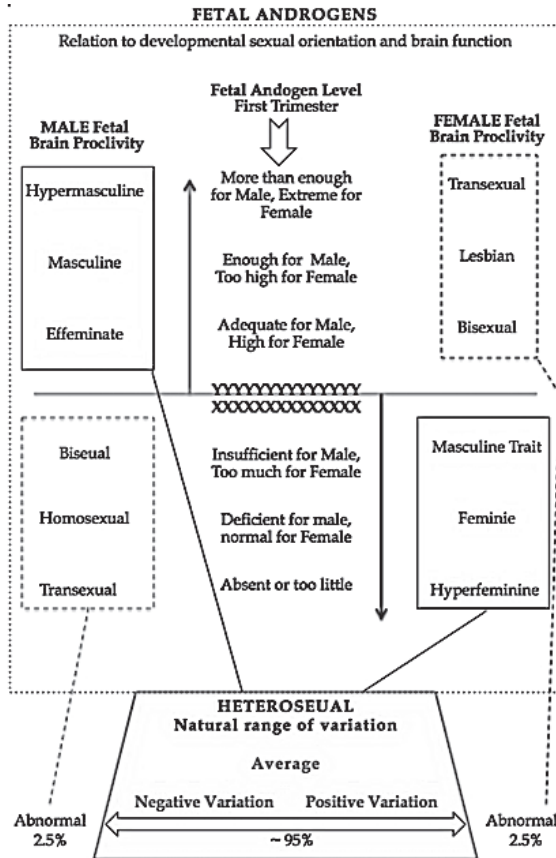

As messianic mania and pretense advance without restraint, elitists and minions efficiently organize evil using religions to which they add democracy and drones to Banks of Global Pillage. Their conglomerates sedulously assault identity with birth control pills, vaccines, celebrity, environmental toxins, pharmaceuticals, processed foods, urbane fabrications, irrelevant educations, Drag Queens, and government-sponsored terror think GLADIO). All the above and more have a hand in altering the developmental gendering and sexual orientation of the human brain during the first trimester of gestation, resulting in the GAY BRAIN SYNDROME.

LGBT sensorial processing only appears to be on par with the flux of pristine heterosexual EMFs. Despite all expectations and mundane explanations, mixed-gendered bio-resonance does not host synergetic functions per mating's natural apposition. Yin and Yang genders are two wings of a singularity that satiates while also fulfilling human purpose. Its unspoiled composite is pristinely designed for a confederation of two and only two well-defined genders. Queers radiate distorted EMF-composites that subject self and others to confounded and confounding basal and trans-border EMF-messaging. Endless moment-to-moment disordering signals discordant overtones that have no bed of resolution. The incessant static is subconsciously felt more than consciously known. Its confounding muddle inhabits and inhibits the synergy of complementary cross-border bio-resonant physiological and metaphysical communications and processes at subatomic levels, which is where Tesla's Aether precipitates matter, form, and function.

How the GAY BRAIN SYNDROME derives from the alteration of fetal androgen levels

a general outline of a far more complicated process.

Incongruent subatomic signals autonomously restrain, impose, and elicit incompatible reactions during social discourse by crossing proprietary boundaries that are sacrosanct by divine design. Thus, Queer messaging is fraught with the unease that fundamentally defies connubial success, no matter how pleasant the union otherwise seems.

Homologous sexuality does not allow its adherents to exhaust human teleology, which bathes in the balanced waters (aether) of appositional heterosexual complementarity, much as the brain is awash with the cerebral spinal fluid that bathes both hemispheres. This imbalance literally prevents or delays mature psychological development when not properly understood, and even then its victims fall short of the Sagan's seat [13], as did Alexander, the last great Dionysian dissolute. Although many Queers similarly sublimate the disadvantage with exceptional talents and achievements that stand above the corn, their gains have little to do with essentials that secure the dominion of wisdom unless ably directed and socially restrained by mature heterosexual leadership. There are boundaries Queers should not cross, and seats of authority they should never occupy no matter how smart or talented they are.

My acupuncturist in Thailand, for example, was both competent and Gay but in no way imposed or flaunted his sexual orientation in clinical or social settings. In his subordinate role as a professional service provider, he was beloved, respected, and honored by superiors, staff, and patients. Although hierarchy is a fact of life, politics, and jungle, narcissistic fools always take exception to existential pecking orders. He must have struggled very hard to establish 'his place' without adopting the egregious decadence of a 'me-too' neurosis. To the contrary, LGBT impositions manifest a less-than-human essence. As we shall see in later essays, Queers excel at beastliness.

Integrated but tangential Queers like Mary Oliver and Molly Malone run their ships on social margins out of necessity rather than desire. This difference between destiny and fate—in their case an amalgam of both—marks the dignitas of Marcus Aurelius versus the dissipating angst of Alexander or Oscar Wilde. Queers who successfully integrate these disordered EMFs do it consciously as extraordinary people who graciously manage a colossal handicap. They recognize it for what it is and do not cross the bounds.

People like my acupuncturist or the late Dr. Oliver Sacks are honored and admired by everyone. Even so, except for first-degree relatives the extension of heart-warming, intimate companionship is rarely on offer without reserve, caution, or antipathy. Indeed, and especially when not respectfully honoring proprietary boundaries, they remain forever ‘outside the heterosexual camp’ and are kept at arm’s length, as if they were cryptids. This instinctive response to their muddled EMF-signals protects heterosexuals, especially children, because Queer EMFs and verbal and non-verbal cues are neither normal, complementary, nor equivalent. Without proper supervision they easily resort to rampant immorality. There are many embarrassing proofs of this pudding. As the earth turns and reasonable folks seek shelter from seen and unseen monsters after sundown, everyone knows this is true.

So then:

The Great Arbiter of all-things-congruent has purposely designed our gender frontiers with an electromagnetic identity-signature with two archetypes. Both receive and transmit highly differentiated communications that irradiate all venues with DNA and epigenetic gender signals from ‘flesh and bone’ composites whose manmade degenerative devolution into Nietzsche’s immoral “slime bags” [14]. These unseen exchanges engage in auto-didactic discourses that robustly promote respective attributions, roles, and purposes. No matter how innocuous, under uncompromised conditions all communicants complement the basal identity of a clearly gendered chora that is unambiguously preset to fulfill our human need to obey divinely ordered commands that protect us from becoming monsters like Ed Gein or Lenin, and run-of-the mill fornicators, adulterers and creeps like those on the President Trumps Epstein list. This cardinal duality expresses dynamics that

- Form a singularity when well-married; and

- Prevent wantonness with exceedingly sophisticated physical and metaphysical systems that are finely tuned by the divine ordering of Tesla's aether to satisfy and sustain satisfaction when heterosexually applied.

The entire schema is analogous to a system of metabolic locks and keys on cellular and sub-cellular interfaces where biophoton-filled plasma mediates all chemistry.

Absent morons, creeps, and Epsteinianite diddlers, these exchanges also Precipitate metanoia's enlightenment of the Promised Land of requited love.

Indeed, Noetic Science, like scripture, holds that 'chemistry' is a crude description of what really occurs. Moreover, gender domains are neither fee simple nor unforgivingly tolerant of burlesque or misrepresentations. Nor do they cease seeking to satiate the following:

- dopamine's rapturous bliss,
- oxytocin's bonding, or
- serotonin's satisfied grin (think Mona Lisa).

Thus, the hale and hearty teleological end purpose of human identity is gender-bound and limited to male-to-female marriage. This is the real meaning of "legitimate" in classical terms.

Like it or not, the supernally gender-defined and gender-defining processing of human EMF-exchanges autonomously

- rejects anything other than pristine heterosexual union as non-complementary and thus unfit for teleologic purposes.

Corollaries:

- Queers and heterosexuals who marry each other are unequally yoked.
- Neither are homologous LGBT-people satisfactorily joined since basal teleology demands satiation. Hence, they remain helplessly wanton and incomplete.

This implies that, like my acupuncturist, same-sex partners should ideally submit themselves to noble heterosexual elders for communal benefit. This is the best they can do to tolerate the handicap in peace.

* Loneliness

People who are lonely are more likely to develop illnesses such as cancer, heart disease, and depression and 50 percent more likely to die prematurely than non-lonely counterparts. Loneliness exists only in a world where the individual is conceived as separate from, rather than part of, the social fabric. ~ https:// is.gd/tvAzNT

The extent of loneliness (76%) detected in the study was a “surprise, because this was a normal population,” said senior researcher Dr. Dilip Jeste, a professor of psychiatry and neuroscience at the University of California, San Diego ____ “This was not a group of people at high risk for emotional problems.” There’s a misperception that loneliness means social isolation,” Jeste said. “Loneliness is subjective. It is what you feel. The definition of loneliness is distress because of a discrepancy between actual social relationships and desired social relationships. There’s a discrepancy between what I want and what I have.” ~ <https://is.gd/D6GqZY>
